Game Summary: Good news and new beginnings for Coach's Corner, they recorded their								1		LOB Warning					LOB Warning first point of the season in their first game played, not their sixth like last																V -
season.										Time Out					X Time Out
The Rhino's are missing two of their top players and one of their top defensemen yet still generated scoring chances to earn a well deserved									DOG Warning					DOG Warning point. Tony Bono scores the first goal of the new season and factors into both																		0 goals his team scored. No one picked the blue collar grunt scoring that first goal; everyone goes for the name player.
John Kelleher scores a goal and takes 10 shots in the game but a shooting percentage of 10% confirms it is the player not that Vulcan stick.
Both goalies Dave Giusti and Scott Rosato keep this a low scoring game with some timely key saves.
Still on the captain/coaching hot seat, Dan Broderick gets a temporary reprieve.
