Game Summary:

Dominions stays on a roll, winning their second straight game with balanced scoring from five different scorers, as they jump out to a commanding three goal lead in the first period and never look back.
M*A*S*H is missing a lot of the offense and goal scorers this game, and rely on the secondary role players for the offense, but gets outmatched by their opponent.
Dominic Defrancisco is very active on the rink with his running game going and his playmaking skills on display, as he scores 1-goal while adding 3-assists, having the biggest impact in this game.
Manny Nunes plays his steady consitent game on offense as he scores 2-goals for the second straight game.
Rick Cassano gets his first points of the season with 1-goal and 2-assists as he plays a central role in breaking this game open for his team.
Ray Dow scores the game's first goal on a rocket from the left point, and sets up another goal.
Paul White is the unexpected scoring for his team, scoring both goals from way out on the right point on slapshots that beat the goalie cleanly.
