Hammerime came out victorious as Anthony Petrillo banked a missed shot from the back boards off the goalie for the game winner in overtime. Hammertime played a solid team game, getting the better scoring chances throughout this game. Barney & Friends playing really well lately with their high scoring offense and steady defense played more of a defensive grinding out game and tied the game with two minutes to play on a gritty goal by Leo Trombley in the blue paint with a defender draped all over him. Anthony Petrillo, who has filled in all season for this team as an "unofficial official" roster player made the most of his first playoff experinece by scoring 2-goals. The first goal late in the third period giving his team the lead, the other being in the right place at the right time in overtime as he took a missed shot rebound off the backboards and from the side of the net banked this off the goalie before everyone could react Lee Nogler leveraged his leadership and experience to lead his team on offense (willing the victory) as he factord in on every goal his team scored with 1-goal and 3-assists. Lee's big game experience was evident as he scored a key goal halfway through the third period tying this game (getting inside position on the defender), then two minutes later set up the temporary go ahead goal. Leo Trombley scored the game tying goal with two minutes to play, with a defender draped all over him in the blue paint taking him down but still muscled the shot in the net, giving his team momentum heading into overtime. Nike Duggan played his typical game on offense, always a threat to score when he got the ball, as he scored a big goal at the time early in the third period scoring off a rebound, while setting up Leo's late game goal. Perhaps overlooked by people was the key contribution by fill-in goalie Steve Taddonio. Making multiple stops on prime scoring chances and flurries. None bigger than his breakaway save off Mike Duggan with seconds left in the second period keeping this a one goal game. It was the key save of the game.
