Game Summary:

Team Timeout:

M*A*S*H is making their playoff push right now as they extend their winning streak to three games, moving into a tie for third place in the standings, while showing that they have the support players on offense who can step up when needed. Hammertime loses their third straight game and are looking more and more like they will finish last in the standings, as they continue to depend too much on their best player for offense while playing too loose on defense.

Joe "Guido" Conary plays his best game this season, scoring 2-goals to set the tempo for his team and has his running forechecking game working.

Dave Norton is starting to find the back of the net after a very slow start this season, scoring 1-goal while adding 2-assists. If Dave gets his goal scoring going with some timely goals, this team will be a real threat in the playoffs.

After missing 7 weeks out on IR with a lower body injury, Tim Burke provides some unexpected motivation for his team by suiting up and playing giving his team an emotional boost before going into surgery, as his only goal scored this season late in the game provides some insurance in clinching the win.

Goalie Dave Giusti plays another solid consistent game in net, stopping 30 out of 31 shots faced for the win.

Rob Sheridan scores his teams only goal and does all he can trying to generate his team's offense while looking so much better moving around on the rink, with less noticable restrictions to his running game.
