Game Summary:

Phoenix Rising remains undefeated after seven games, scoring two goals halfway through the third period to break a tie, then holds on for the win.

M*A*S*H finally has a full team, plays their best game all season, is running all game AND finally scores some goals, yet still extend their winless streak to seven games. A sign of good things to come for this team?

Captain John Kelleher plays his best game this season, scoring the hat trick, to lead his team's offense, and is the difference maker this game.

Jason Carrien shows up late, yet his presence immediately changes this game, as he sets up two goals early in the second period, sparking his team's momentum swing.

Garvin Chan is the playmaker this game, setting up two goals, as his first assist between the faceoff circles, freezes the defense and the goalie to find his open team mate for a sweet open net goal.

Todd Bryson scores the game's first goal and his first goal of the season.

Captain Jamie Kehoe sets up his team's first goal while also jumping into the offense to also score his first goal of the season.

Steve Iacoviello plays his usual solid defensive game, but, gets involved in the offense in a big way when it matters, by setting up two goals in the third period to help his team open up a close game.
